With RadTags*

Wouldn't it be disastrous to lose something valuable? How many of you have ever lost or misplaced a prized possession? Well this problem can be easily solved with the help of RadTags! RadTags are NEW customizable and traceable stickers that can be placed on any personal belongings and tracked from any device with internet capabilities. No one likes losing their things, but it happens, that's life. RadTags is a company that seeks to help limit the number of priceless items people lose. RadTags are customizable and equipped with a tracker — they are unlike other stickers in the industry and are so much more than just another water bottle or phone case decoration. RadTags uses a combination of double-sided, waterproof adhesive and micro GPS technology to ensure that any lost item can be easily and quickly tracked down.
